Fountain of Life!

THE

GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER!

IN EVERY PROGRESSIVE SCIENCE DECISIONS ARrive when a new [illegible] epochs presided in [illegible] which charges the [illegible] sont is an opal [illegible] offered to the public [illegible] which it is based is found to dispute it [illegible] in the treatment of the diseases of eradicating the disease entirely from the blood. The FOUNTAIN OF LIFE [illegible] and entirely of vile humors; it contains no Mercury or other mineral substance.

The Proprietor and Discoverer of this Sovereign Remedy CHALLENGES THE WORLD to furnish anything from days of Æsculapius down to the present time in the annals of Medical Science which can vie with or excel the intrinsic properties of this Great Blood Purifier. It has been tested with the happiest effect in the most desperate cases of Scrofula, that baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians in the world. No matter what or the dreadful disease of SCROFULA and KING'S EVIL may have assumed, it can in no way be more safely and carefully arrested in its progress than by HENLEY'S GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. Thousands have been saved from their graves who, had they made a timely use of the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE, might now be enjoying the blessings of life and health. It requires no articles of real merit and intrinsic value to sustain itself. During the ordeal of public experiment the FOUNTAIN OF LIFE has stood the test and all [illegible] found wanting. Dr. HENLEY guarantees to CURE any case of SCROFULA or KING'S EVIL in the world and eradicate the disease entirely from the system, or no charge made. Provided they will secure him his pay when they are cured.

FOR REFERENCE I

would refer you to L. L. Peck, of Portland Oregon, and numbers of others, as to what a miraculous effect it had in a short time, in cases that had baffled the skill of physicians for years.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

16 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Chronic Diseases, such as Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in its various forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc., &c. In Diseases (of a delicate nature) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, Friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be aware of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Weakness, the consequence of self-abuse: This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of horrible symptoms, unless combated by scientific and immediate measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of Carriots, uneasiness of the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, contracted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintance, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, headache, pimples and various eruptions about the face, foul tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, mammalia and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either the San Francisco or such INFIRMATOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and publicity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Address DR J. G. GIBBON, 16 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 342. Consultations FREE.

Prevention Better than Cure.

The newly invented Patent French Safe, a sure Preventative against Disease and Pregnancy, sent by mail, price $2. Address DR. J. G. GIBBON, 616 Kearny st., cor. Commercial, San Francisco. Postoffice box 222.

☞ Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian or Weekly Oregonian, as the case may be.

GOD GRUB AND PLENTY OF IT!

AT THE

Bennett House,

SALEM, OREGON

L. JAY S. TURNEY,

HAVING LEASED THE ABOVE NAMED HOTEL, is prepared to accommodate the travelling public, on the RENEWED REGULAR BOARDER, in as good style as any to be on the Coast. He has determined to make the "Bennett" as good as the best and better than any public house in Salem. He will soon complete some important improvements, which will add greatly to its appearance, comfort, and intends to merit and hopes to receive a share of patronage.

He has secured the services of "Charley" (known to the best cook in Salem, and one of the best in the country) and other competent persons to manage every subsidiary department, and is resolved to set as good a table as can be found anywhere—not in clap trap pomp show, flummery and fine furniture, but in an abundant supply of the very best the market affords.

The Bar-room will be kept warmed and lighted and supplied with newspapers, portfolio and other reading matter, and kept in a manner which will render it an agreeable resort.

In short, he intends making an effort to please all who may favor the Bennett House. And he most respectfully invites his friends and every one else to give the old and well tried house a trial before concluding to stand at least the same as any other, if they can do as well elsewhere and promises if they are favored, and properly cared for, and attended to, it will not be the fault of the public's most obedient and most humble servant,

L. JAY S. TURNEY.

P. S.—Furnished rooms, with or without board by the day, week or month at the Bennett. Charges made to accommodate the times.

PIONEER WASHER.

JAMES BRUSIE,

AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public. It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes with but slight labor, and lasting, with proper care, for ten years. The wear and tear of clothing by washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It is easily worked by one person.

This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to all housekeepers and families and washing men and washing women.

It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.

The undersigned is now in the city of Portland, where he can be seen at Mr. O. Kilhourn's Store, corner of Front and Yamhill Sts. East side Portland, and is prepared to furnish the Machine to purchasers and also to sell and dispose of County Rights for the sale of the same.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO JUNE 17.

Washington News

WASHINGTON, June 15.—A Chicago Times special dispatch says it is rumored in Republican quarters that there will be a July session. The Herald publishes a double leaded editorial urging Republicans in the most positive language to meet and [illegible].

A paper is being circulated asking pardon for General Longstreet.

The agent of the Central Pacific Railroad Co. has arrived from California to obtain from the Secretary of the Interior 6,000 colored laborers to work on that road, offering steady employment and high wages.

An official letter from Lord Lyons of the rupture of Campeachy by the Liberals on June 1st.

Reconstruction.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—That Stevens' letter in the Chronicle desires that a quorum of Congress should meet in July. He denounces the Attorney General's interference with reconstruction as usurpation, and says it has been decided that the conquered States should be treated as ambulent territory without rights of their coalition. They must be retained by the legislative power alone. The rebuilding of conquered States does not come within the provisions of the constitution. The Attorney General's opinion is no better than any other lawyer's.

Stanbery's opinion will be published on Monday. He holds that the reconstruction act provides two governments—one civil and one military—and both provisional, to be continued till superceded by the organization of States. Military commanders are conservators of the peace to suppress disorder and protect the rights of persons and property. They have no power to remove state officers, nor authority to suppress newspapers. Briefly they are not active in the capacity of abrogators of the law but conservators of peace.

Surratt's Trial.

WASHINGTON, June 15.—In Surratt's trial, Carrington objected to further proceedings on the ground that the term ends on Monday, and that another Judge is assigned for the next term of criminal court. Judge Fisher, who commenced impanelling the Jury, being now ill, the District Attorney submitted that it was illegal for Judge Wylie to complete the panel. The court overruled the objection. Carrington excepted to the ruling. A full jury was obtained at seven o'clock at night. The jury were allowed to separate till Monday.

Miscellaneous

NEW YORK, June 15.—A grand concert for the relief of Southern Masons is to be given at the Academy of Music, on the 27th inst.

It is reported that Barney Aaron died of injuries. Joe Coburn says the report is false and that Aaron is fast recovering.

At the workingmen's Union Convention relative to the eight hour law, a minority of delegates apparently do not consider the present a favorable moment to enter upon the struggle with the employers. They desire to postpone action till after approaching State Convention.

Sir Wm. Napier, brother of the late British Minister, was arrested for fraudulent purchase of goods.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—John Henry has sued Silas Wilcox in the 15th District Court, to recover $1,000 damages for alleged slander in accusing him of being a thief.

Captain R. P. Pettis, who died on the 6th inst., left a will which was filed in Probate Court yesterday. He was unmarried, and he appoints D. C. Mills, W. C. Ralston and Judge O. C. Pratt executors of his estate, which is worth half a million dollars. After bequeathing several legacies of from $1,000 to $2,000, he says, "Slightly considering that I have been greatly blessed, and that I have an undying attachment to the Government of the United States, the country of my birth, and remembering that by reason of my age and infirmities during the recent unnatural rebellion history it, I was unable to render service in the field to put down and punish that great crime, and not being unmindful that a large public burthen of indebtedness has been necessarily incurred in accomplishing that object, I desire not only to leave behind me when I am gone an humble testimony of the gratitude I feel towards those whose valor and sacrifices and services preserved what I regard the best Government man ever had, but beyond that and in addition to paying the ordinary tax on my estate, think it due by the means provided in His bounty has enabled me to acquire and the laws of my country aided me to preserve, to do something towards extinguishing the national debt, therefore moved thereto by the foregoing causes only, I hereby give and bequeath unto the United States of America in trust, and to be applied only toward cancelling the national debt, the sum of twenty thousand dollars. The relatives of the deceased in Pennsylvania are the residuary heirs.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—The clipper ships Priscilla Dunn, Capt. Hutchman, and Gov. Morton, Capt. Horton, arrived at this port from New York, Saturday afternoon. Both ships left New York at the same time, being towed by tugs out past Sandy Hook within hailing distance of each other, and making sail simultaneously. They crossed the equator in the Atlantic on the same day, and passed through the Straits of Lamaire off the coast of Patagonia the same day, one being a few hours in advance of the other. Both ships crossed the equator in the Pacific on the same day, and in the same degree of longitude, although they did not see each other. They arrived yesterday, the Gov. Morton being three hours behind in coming to anchor.

The Daney Mining Company yesterday levied an assessment of $3 per share, payable immediately.

The complimentary benefit to R. C. Grilley, known as the "Sanitary flour sack man," comes off at Union Hall this evening.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19th.—The Democratic State Convention met at Turn Verein Hall at noon to-day for the purpose of nominating a State ticket. The total number of delegates elected to the convention is 376, the apportionment being based on the vote cast for McClellan and Pendleton at the last Presidential election. The delegates were all chosen from the Clubs with one primary election. The test adopted by the Democratic State Committee is as follows: "All voters opposed to the radical policy of Congress and in favor of a constitutional administration of the Government of this Union shall be entitled to vote for delegates."

Eugene Casserly was unanimously chosen temporary Chairman, and A. C. Bradford was chosen temporary Secretary. After appointing a committee on credentials and permanent organization, the Convention adjourned until this evening. It is understood that the secession element will take a back seat for the good of the party, believing that by waiving their claims, a ticket can be nominated which will secure a large number of milk and water Union men. Great enthusiasm has prevailed so far. It is generally believed H. H. Haight will be the nominee for Governor. No nominations will be made till to-morrow. It is a noticeable fact that four-fifths of the Convention is composed of time-worn Copperheads and secesh. John Bigler is prominent among the delegates.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—The Democratic State Convention reassembled to-day at 11 o'clock. The platform adopted embraces sixteen resolutions, five of which are as follows:

Resolved, That the question involved in the late rebellion have been practically settled by the war, and it is the duty of all to acquiesce in this settlement and endeavor to restore friendly relations between the different sections of the country, and re-establish the Government in its Constitutional authority throughout the Union.

Resolved, That in order that our National difficulties may be adjusted and the Union restored on a permanent and satisfactory basis, the States lately in rebellion should be dealt with in a spirit of kindness and forbearance and declared the course of Congress, in which are known as the reconstruction measures of that body as harsh, illiberal and oppressive and more likely to result in hollow truce than enduring peace.

Resolved, That the only way in which peace and concord can be re-established, is by conforming to the requirements of the constitution and quieting the radical party, who spurn its provisions and imperil the Union by their mad and seditious course.

Resolved, That the power to regulate foreign immigration belongs vested in Congress. It is the duty of that body to protect the Pacific States and Territories from an undue influx of Chinese and Mongolians, and it is the duty of the legislature of this State to petition Congress to call on demand to obtain the adoption of such regulations as shall accomplish this object; and the legislature should use all its power to prevent the introduction of Mongolian laborers.

Resolved, That we regard the right to regulate suffrage as belonging exclusively to the several States of the Union.

After the adoption of the platform the Convention proceeded with the nomination of Governor. Col. Creed Haymond nominated H. H. Haight, of San Francisco.

Gen. Winn nominated Bidwell, who stated that he was not a candidate.

Dr. Oliver, of Calaveras, nominated Gen. Rosecrans.

Judge Sinbee stated that Mr. Rosecrans had positively declined to run upon the ticket when upon Haight was nominated by acclamation after which the Convention adjourned till 8 P. M.

At the afternoon session Wm. Hidden, of Mendocino received the nomination for Lieutenant Governor. Dr. Mahoney, of Sacramento, for Secretary of State, and Reed Watt, of Nevada, for Controller. After these nominations the Convention adjourned to meet to-morrow at 10 A. M.

AUBURN, June 20.—Arrangements have been perfected to reduce the time of carrying the mails between Salt Lake City and San Francisco to five days. Regular close connections will be made at Austin and Virginia. When the Indian troubles are all have permanently ceased to exist, it is believed that the time of transit between Chicago and San Francisco will be reduced to fifteen days.

VIRGINIA, June 21.—About 11 o'clock last night a fire occurred in the Challenge Placer mine, the property formerly owned by the Raja Co. The ground under Wood & Chase store caved in and it quickly gave way with its contents and sank about fifty feet in the earth. Half an hour afterwards the flames of fire took fire and is still smoking. The cave extended to the west of Butler.

VIRGINIA, June 19.—A telegraph office was opened at this place this morning.

Money Market

Gold closed in New York yesterday afternoon at 1389. On the 17th inst. sterling was quoted at 110 @ 110½. Bankers are without change. Brokers are buying at 7 and selling at 7½.

Produce Markets.

Flour beyond the jobbing trade there is nothing doing. The current rates are entirely nominal. City brands unchanged.

Wheat—There are no transactions to report. So far as we can learn prices are $1 60@$1 80 per 100 lbs.

Barley—good feed, 75 cts. @ $1 00 per 100 lbs.

Oats—Sales at $1 60@$1 70 per 100 lbs.

Potatoes—Good to choice, (old) are quoted at $1 50@$1 75 and new at $1 25@2 00 per 100 lbs.

Wool—Good shipping grade, 14 cents.

Last night about a quarter past eleven o'clock a fire broke out on Webber Avenue, near the corner of California, in a private boarding house kept by Mrs. Slaughter. The engines were promptly on the ground, and soon had water on the building. The fire communicated to the old South Methodist Church on the east, and to the dwelling house of J. Glim on the west. The boarding house was entirely destroyed with all the furniture. The church was saved by the city for the purpose of using it as a public school. Mrs. Slaughter, the proprietress of the hotel, lost most of the furniture beside the entire wardrobe, also narrowly escaping death. The building was owned by E. Crowell, and was insured for $2000. The effects of Mrs. Slaughter were also insured for a like amount. Mr. Glim lost all his furniture except what was in the parlor. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary, as there had been no fire used for a great length of time, near the spot where the destroying element first took hold. This was the third attempt to burn the hotel.

Money Market.

Gold remained steady yesterday, closing at 137¾, legal tenders are without any change. 73 buying, and 73½ selling.

Markets.

Bacon—Smoked bacon sells at 14@15c. Oregon bacon quote 1 at 13½@14. California hams, 10@10½c.

The wool market continues to drag. Sales since last Monday aggregate about 300,000 pounds. Spring clip within range 36@39½, including one lot of 30,000 pounds clean at 38. Telegrams from New York report a dull and declining market. The shipment to New York by the steamer yesterday was 164,600, making 308,800 lbs. shipped hence to that market since the 1st inst. Stock in port present unusually large and constantly accumulating.

Hides—Private telegrams from New York quote sales of California dry selected, in order at 18½, slightly sweated, 15, gold. We quote an unusual selection of California dry city slaughtered at 13½@14, with light sales.

Shipping.

Sailed—June 20th, steamer Del Norte, Umpqua; bark Pioneer, Puget Sound.

Arrived—June 19th, schooner Superior, 100 days from South Amboy via Bermuda 165 days. U. S. steamer Saranac 28 days from Panama via Acapulco 15 days.

Sailed—June 18, bark Florence for Seabeck. June 19, steamer Active, Victoria.

OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

[FROM A CORRESPONDENT OF THE OREGONIAN.]

NEW YORK, May 21, 1867.

THE INDIAN TROUBLES.

"Lo, the poor Indian! whose untutored mind,
Sees God in clouds and hears him on the winds."

Thus wrote Alexander Pope (why, by-the-way, never saw an Indian in all his life), in his beautiful "Essay on Man," more than a hundred years ago. But that idea is all poetical fustian or prunello.

Tuno, Tecumseh, a trip across the plains, Kamaiakan and General Hancock's latest expedition against the bloody Arapahoes, Cheyennes, Kiowas, and Sioux only confirm the opinion that Mr. Hyas Tyee Lo was a fancy figment of the poet's brain just as wide of the mark as in the philosophy he teaches in the lines—

"And spite of pride, in erring reason's spite
One truth is clear, whatever is, is right."

The matter of our Indian troubles, and how best to settle them, is looming up as a great question of the summer campaign, scarcely second to the reconstruction of the South, or trial of Jeff. Davis.

All along the Rocky mountain range and the intervening buffalo hunting grounds from Santa Fe to northern Minnesota, there are indications of a general combination among various tribes for a great war against the whites. The bloody work which carried such destruction throughout portions of Oregon and Washington Territories in 1856, is threatened upon a larger scale along the frontier of Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Dakota, Montana and New Mexico.

It is the same old story over again. A sick man closely attended and plied with the nostrums of three contending schools—Allopaths, Homeopaths and Hydropaths—when all the doctors want his body for dissection. For a long period there have been proposed in our country three ways of dealing with our Indian tribes—fighting, petting and talking—in order to reduce them into submission and to adopt habits of civilization.

And yet he remains only slightly changed to

Lo, the poor Indian! whose untutored mind
Would take delight in giving a shot behind,
Or making off on tiptoe and your head
While you are snugly snoozing in your bed

Of these three plans, one generally recommended by Western men who have lived among Indians and who know best how to treat their natures, which is also the plan of General Grant and the War Department, is to administer to all fighting Indians a sound thrashing, require them to go upon reservations and compel them to remain there.

In addition, we would suggest, in order to render the work more effective, let there be a codicil to shoot every Indian found off, and hang every white man found on the reservation without a permit.

Another plan of the Indian Bureau—the Congressional plan of petting—has, for a long time prevailed, and the latter end of the Indian

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 21, 1867

Protection for Southern Industry.

That the Southern States, under the competition of free labor and the influx of capital, will soon engage extensively in all sorts of manufacturing enterprises, can not be doubted; and hence if there is one thing clearer than another it is that the South will soon be the foremost champion of protection. Many of the old Southern leaders have declared that the great mistake of those States was in demanding free trade, and that instead of sending their money and raw material abroad to purchase their necessaries and to be squandered in luxuries, they should have organized their industry after the manner of the Middle and Eastern States and built up their country on the broad and permanent foundations which such a system establishes. In that event war would have been unlikely, as a similarity of interests throughout the whole country would have prevented it, or in case war should have occurred, the South would have been infinitely stronger under this system than she was under the old one. There is force in these ideas, and they indicate what the future policy of the South on this most important subject is likely to be.

When the Southern States demand protection, as they are certain to do ere long, what position will that Northern party take which has heretofore for many years demanded free trade mainly because the South insisted on that policy? It must be prepared to declare for protection or to sever the political relations which it has long held and which it is still struggling to maintain with the Southern States. Of course it will be ready to do anything which the exigencies of the times may require, and as its last President, James Buchanan was a protectionist during the first years of his political life, so he and his party may become protectionists again.

Mr. Newell of the Walla Walla Statesman, who has just been elected a member of the Washington Territory Council, asserts that he is "in no sense of the word an office seeker," and solemnly assures the world that he has "refused nominations times without number." These remarks are well calculated to puzzle those who are acquainted with the course their author has pursued during the last five years. Probably he means to say that he has been in no sense of the word a successful office seeker, and that he has failed to get nominations, times without number. It is a fact still within the memory of many persons that he once sought a nomination for the office of State Printer in a Union Convention in Oregon and missed his mark. It is also a fact still well remembered that he tried to obtain a nomination in a Union Convention as Presidential Elector in 1864, and failed to reach the object of his ambition. These failures and possibly others of a similar kind, exerted a wonderfully "conservatising" influence upon the mind of Mr. Newell, as he began from that time totter and slip back from his position as a Union man. Before that, he was a great "Radical;" since then he has been gradually growing more and more "Conservative," till at last he is in full fellowship with the Democracy, and has secured the reward of an office. The place he has got is not as profitable as those he sought in Oregon, but still it is an office and anything in the line is always welcome to "Conservative" changelings. Not one of them is the man to look a gift horse in the mouth.

It is a dangerous sort of business for Democrats to be sporting with that old Jeffersonian maxim: "Equal and exact justice to all; special privileges to none." The danger is that the people may take the politicians who announce this principle at their word, and use it as a great lever to overturn modern Democracy. It has happened on numerous occasions lately that while the professed disciples of Jefferson were using this taking sentiment merely to tickle the ear of those whom they addressed, the latter were receiving it as sound doctrine and preparing to put it into practice. On some such principle as this the numerous defeats the sham Democracy have met in those localities where impartial suffrage has been established, are probably to be accounted for. By familiarizing the public mind with this maxim, a principle is inculcated which is foreign to the modern creed of that party, and the result is its defeat. For instance, the doctrine of "equal and exact justice for all, special privileges to none," was preached to the people of Washington Territory with great vehemence, and the result was the defeat of the party which, though proclaiming the principle, refused to act upon it. The people could not see why, under this excellent doctrine, certain classes should be deprived of their rights; and therefore they endorsed impartial suffrage. So while spurious Democrats are playing this and other old fashioned maxims as counters, the people are receiving them as genuine coin. It is exceedingly dangerous for any party to be meddling with these old truths unless it is prepared to come up to their requirements.

The philosophers of the New York Tribune have a charming idea of Indian virtue. They do not blame the noble cricket eaters for their diabolic conduct; for, says the Tribune, "they do not want a licentious soldiery quartered among their families." This tells the whole story of the ignorance of the Eastern people of everything that pertains to Indian character and habits, and illustrates their maudlin philanthropy on the subject as well as the whole volumes of namby-pamby stuff which they write about the Indians, could possibly do. Sensible people judge the Indians by what they have done and by what they are. In looking back over the whole history of the country since the appearance of the whites on the continent, it will be found that the number of Indians who have embraced the habits of civilization has been extremely small. They turn away from civilized life with disgust, and are resolved to adhere to barbarism. The vices of that sort of life are congenial to their nature, as are also those of civilization which they speedily adopt as opportunity offers, while rejecting all the virtues of civilized life. Everybody who knows anything about them is convinced that they must soon disappear, and the quicker the better.

Illinois has probably witnessed the last execution of high crimes within her borders. At the last session of the Legislature of that State the juries, in capital crimes, were empowered to determine whether the punishment of the culprit should be death or imprisonment. Throughout the civilized world there is a gradual tendency toward the adoption of the latter mode of punishment for high crimes.

THE COST OF THE TRAITOR'S SAFETY.—If we mistake not in our calculations, it cost this Government one hundred thousand dollars to get Jeff. Davis out of that swamp, where he was caught in female attire, into Canada. To say nothing of the expense of his sojourn at Fortress Monroe, the sum appears to be an exorbitant price to pay for such a man. In justice Greeley, Johnson and Smith ought to return the amount to the United States Treasury—the pot belongs to them.—S. F. Times

The striking ignorance of American affairs betrayed by English writers has often been remarked. The last number of Blackwood stated that "General Jackson owed his elevation to having fought the British at New Orleans, and to having served with distinction in the war against Mexico!"

Mayor Monroe, of New Orleans has fled to Canada with his family. Time was when fugitives from slavery used to seek the same locality as a place of refuge. Now the ex-slave stays, and the ex-master runs. "Time at last makes all things even.

STATE ITEMS

The Umpqua Academy holds its thirteenth annual Commencement Exercises this week.

Hon. E. L. Applegate has been invited to deliver the oration at Salem on the fourth of July.

The Annual Commencement of Pacific College, the Willamette University at Salem will be held the 4th July.

The Educational Association of Douglas county will meet at Roseburg on the 27th inst., and continue in session three days.

There is said to be a band of wild cattle in the mountains between Roseburg, and the coast. An explorer who has seen them thinks they would number 200.

Mr. C. B. Wells has shown to the editor of the Corvallis Gazette the skin of an enormous panther—measuring nine feet three inches from tip to tip. It was killed about nine miles west of Corvallis.

A National and Sunday School celebration will be held by the people of Rock Creek, near Needy Post Office, Clackamas county, on the 4th of July. S. A. Moreland will read the Declaration of Independence, and Hon. W. C. Johnson has been invited to deliver the oration.

The Roseburg paper tells its readers of a place which offers a chance for homes. We are credibly informed that there is a fine opening for settlers, a few miles westward from this place, on the route of the new wagon road soon to be made from here to Coos Bay. There is no better soil anywhere, than along Coos and Coquille rivers. And there it is, abundantly supplied with the finest timber and the purest water, ready to be taken possession of by enterprising families who are not afraid of labor.

Some idea of the importance of the lumber business in Salem, says the Record, may be gathered from the fact that the Capital Lumber Co. have manufactured at their mill near the wharf 1,166,000 feet of lumber in the last six months, almost eight thousand feet each twelve hours. Their mill up the slough has added to this amount so that the entire manufacture of the company amounts to two million feet in six months, one third of which has also been run through the planer. This shows how the town grows.

The Salem Record has the following notice of Cooper's coal mine on Battle creek. One man is at work at the mine, opening tunnels and extracting coal. Several openings have been made, the principal one is in perhaps forty feet from where the ground was broken, the tunnel being twenty-five or thirty feet long. The coal had dips into the hill as the tunnel follows it, showing a strata of excellent coal about two feet thick, above this is a strata of sandstone, then several feet of tough clay, and another small vein of coal. It does not appear to Mr. H. to be a regular formation, and he thinks that on penetrating the mountain and finding the entire vein of coal, Cooper will have a good chance for permanent pay. Mr. Cooper has about twenty tons of excellent coal now out.

BOOTH REDIVIVUS AGAIN.—The following letter appears in the Galveston News of the 7th of May. We wish that the writer had been a little more explicit:

GALVESTON, (Texas,) May 3, 1867.

EDITOR NEWS: Wishing to occupy as little of your valuable space as possible, I shall (in compliance with the particular request of several individuals) refer briefly to the following facts, and respectfully request a publication of them in your columns for the benefit of those interested in the matter:

Lieutenant William Martin Tolbert of Shenandoah notoriety, and the same who rendered himself so conspicuous by his connection with the privateer Chickamauga, was, by chance, personally known to me during the war. So far as cunning and bravery are concerned, I do not believe he had a match in the Confederate navy; but on two or three occasions he is known to have abused his authority, and gone a step too far in the seizures upon the high seas, which gained him the very unenviable reputation of pirate.

At the close of the war he disappeared from this country and was lost sight of for this time, till recently he has turned up in command of a large ship, out in East Indian waters, called the Bird of the Ocean, and has now brought himself more prominently into notice than ever before, by simply having lain a wager of $2,500 upon the foot of J. Wilkes Booth being in existence—and won the money.

This question, which has been fearfully agitated since the war in certain sections of the United States, has not been satisfactorily settled, then, it would seem, after the lapse of two years. Will some person be kind enough to unravel the mystery which clings to Booth, and explain how the stake at issue in Calcutta was decided to belong to Captain Tolbert.

Most respectfully, your obedient servant,
JOSEPH R. MASTERS,
Late Captain U. S. N.

BRICK POMEROY AND HIS PAPER GET A "NOTICE."—The following "first-rate notice" of the La Crosse (Wisconsin) Democrat, edited by a fellow who calls himself "Brick Pomeroy," is from the local columns of the Montana Post. The notice is a model of Pomeroy's style, and a rough, but very accurate description of his sheet. It is headed "To whom it may concern," and reads as follows:

Came to this office by mistake, the La Crosse Democrat, edited by Brick Pomeroy. Description.—The most contemptible specimen of journalism on this continent; obscene, profane, libelous, and filthy; insidious as a serpent, venomous as a tarantula. Contents.—Beast Butler, BRICK POMEROY, Treason. "Only this and nothing more." Character of "Brick," compiled from his paper.—A conceited rebel dog, too cowardly to fight for the South, and too big a fool to keep his mouth shut when they are whipped; an accomplished idiot and manipulator of brothel slang, coupling to his nouns a string of adjectives, like filthy cattle cars after a locomotive. Having exhausted his supply of vituperative epithets and Five Point's billingsgate, he has gone to New Orleans to hang around the back yards of rebellion, to glean and rop up the slang of every greasy soulless and slop house, to give tone to his filthy paper. The paper claims an immense circulation. So had the frogs and lice of Egypt, and the small-pox and cholera, and the Venus Miscellany. As long as men will stone a Sunday-school procession, and seduce women, commit murder, roll in the gutter, talk treason, engage in rebellion, etc., it will probably be well patronized. Any person who is short of such a thing as described above, can have the thing without charge by calling early this morning.

The fact that the church of the Puritans on Union square, New York, is soon to be closed, is already widely known, and the following particulars will interest many persons: The church was built on leased land; the lease expired on the 1st instant, and the charge upon renewal was $10,000 per annum. This sum would have overtaxed the society's pecuniary ability. Hence, its edifice and right to a renewal have been sold to Tiffany & Co. for $78,000, out of which every debt of the society has been paid, including the heavy arrears of salary due to the pastor, which amounted to $42,500. Dr. Cheever has thus closed his long struggle in better circumstances than ever before.

The Pall Mall Gazette thinks it would not be too much to say that the United States and Russia intend to divide the world between them by and by.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. To all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by the Druggists and dealers everywhere. A SEA WALL.—The great work of erecting a massive sea wall around the entire city front has been commenced in San Francisco. The sea wall, as finished, San Francisco will have no finer harbor in any in the United States. KOHN & FISHEL, No. 91 Front street, have adopted a rule of trading that is as beautiful to them as the sea wall to San Francisco. They ask but one price for their fine and custom made Clothing, Dry Goods, etc., and that price is so low that every person is satisfied that it requires no additional figures to put to it, as facts are more positive proofs.

MAYOR HOLMES SUNERAL.—In obedience to the resolution of the Council, all places of business were closed yesterday. At half past ten the various societies of the city, civic and military congregated at the late residence of Mr. Holmes, the Masonic fraternity taking charge of the exercises of the day, as the deceased was a member of that Society. The remains were escorted to Trinity Church, where Bro Stoy officiated. At the Church the procession was organized, and moved to the ferry landing in the following order—first, McKenzie Brass Band—second, Masons—third, the hearse containing the mortal ... of the deceased—fourth, the family mourners, ... immediate friends—sixth, the present and ex officers of the city—seventh, citizens on foot—eighth, Fourteenth Infantry Band—ninth, Fire Department, consisting of five companies and escort to the rear—tenth, Washington Guards—eleventh, Foulton—twelfth, Turn Verein—thirteenth, Hibernian Benevolent Society—fourteenth, citizens on foot. The various societies wore the badges of their Orders draped in emblems of mourning and ... conspicuous upon each member. The present and former officers of the city were also in deep mourning, indicated by crape on the arm, rosettes and gloves. The two brass bands discoursed sweet, mournful music, adding to the melancholy of the occasion. The coffin was a splendid piece of mechanism, being covered with fine broad-cloth and heavily fringed. It was silver mounted, representing the emblems of Masonry and was lined with zinc, being air tight. There was no class or condition of society unrepresented, and all partook of a feeling of dejection and sorrow. Four colored citizens were appointed grooms for the occasion, each of whom had suspended from their belts the appropriate crape, and in charge of the four splendid black horses attached to the hearse. The exercises at the grave were conducted in the most interesting manner, rendered more so by the peculiarly impressive ceremonies appertaining to masonry. After the duty of citizens to a departed fellow-being had been performed, the procession solemnly wended its way back to the city. It was estimated by some that three thousand and by others three thousand five hundred people participated in and witnessed the impending ceremonies. At all events, never before did Portland witness such an unusual demonstration to pay the last tribute of respect to a departed citizen.

THE MAYORALITY.—The death of Mr. Holmes will create a vacancy in the office of Mayor. The term to which Mr. Holmes was appointed by the Common Council will expire on the ninth day after the election. The present Council will appoint a Mayor to fill the present vacancy. The Council commencing on the tenth day after the election, will find themselves without a Mayor; hence they will have to appoint one to fill the vacancy until the next ... election, which takes place on the third Monday in June, 1868. Relating to the subject, we have copied from the ... ter section 23 and 28, and subdivision 1 of section ... 34 reads: "The term of office of every person ... ist to office under this act, shall commence on the ... day after the election at which he was elected, and ... accordingly, except as otherwise provided in ... and by such time, such person must qualify ... by taking and filing the oath of office, and give ... official undertaking for the faithful performance of ... duties, as may be required, or he shall be deemed to ... declined and the office considered vacant. Section 28 and Subdivision 1 of such section reads as follows:

Sec. 28. A vacancy in any office, caused by a failure of ... elected, to qualify therefor, as prescribed in ... 24, or made by or consequent upon the judgment ... court, or in any of the cases specified in section ... shall be filled as follows:

1. In the office of Mayor or Councilman, by the appointment of the Council to continue until the tenth day after the next general election, and if the term of such office shall then expire, the remainder thereof shall be filled by election, at such general election.

CANYON CITY.—The Mountaineer of a late date gives the following from the Canyon City: "Several new discoveries of quartz ledges had lately been made in Elk Creek District. The miners on Elk creek are doing very well. The miners in the vicinity of Canyon City are expected to take out more gold this year than ever before. Parties are now on the way to Portland to purchase a quartz mill for the Grant County Quartz Mining Company. It is intended for the Elk Creek District, and will be a "custom mill." There are eighty shares of this stock to be taken—the original number being two hundred—at $100 per share. The blizzens of the Dalles are expected to take a portion of these—the remainder will be taken in Portland. The general state of affairs in Canyon City and vicinity are in a very healthy condition. Money is becoming more plenty, which is a good sign."

RUNAWAY.—Yes, an elopement has taken place. Mrs. Wo Yung got up and dusted and left Mr. Wo Yung all alone, and joined her fortunes, if she had any, to those of Mr. Hop Yo Mung, whereat Mr. Wo Yung became enraged at Mr. Hop Yo Mung (as any husband would have a right to) and sought the consoling counsel of one of our young Counsellors-at-law. But no consolation could be give, unless a writ of Replevin would lie, and that was doubtful. So poor Mr. Wo Yung will be forced to weep and go it alone, while Mrs. Wo Yung and Mr. Hop Yo Mung will enjoy the happiness which they may find in each others refined company. It takes Chinamen and others time to learn the ways of "white men."

REV. DR. WARD.—This celebrated divine who labored ... for a while has been doing duty in Nevada.

The Pioneer, printed at Virginia City, says of him: "His labors have resulted to a lasting blessing to these cities, to the ministers, to the churches, to the public and private morals, to families, to individuals, to citizens and to strangers. The revival, thus far, has been healthful, peaceful, full of promise and good fruits, and will therefore prove abiding. Mr. Earle's kind, discreet, rational treatment has won all hearts. He will never be forgotten by this people; hundreds will bless him in the New Jerusalem who, but for his labors, would have never arrived there."

"HOE LEFF."—As the Hussar Troop gave her departing whistle yesterday afternoon, en route for Vancouver, all of the Fourteenth Infantry Band had successfully got aboard, except one. The steamer being under way, the Captain could not without unwarrantable delay put back to the landing for the purpose of accommodating our belated musician. So the poor fellow was left—but fortunately he was among his friends, hence he need not regret his tardiness as his pleasures will undoubtedly exceed those at his barracks.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS.—The annual examination of the pupils attending the Primary Department of St. Joseph's School under charge of the Sisters of the Most Holy names of Jesus and Mary, will take place on Saturday, June 22d, at 9 o'clock, A. M., at St. Mary's Academy. Also the annual examination of the pupils attending St. Mary's Academy will take place on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next. The Exhibition will be held on Thursday, the 27th inst., commencing at 2½ P. M.

SCARCITY.—The scarcity of local news, items, etc., etc., ... us to adopt the language of the local editor of the ... Evening Intelligencer, who delivers himself of the following: "We haven't heard of a fight for a week—nobody has been gut-shot since, we don't remember when—no fires of any kind—no smash up on the railroads—no runaway teams careering through our streets—no boys being drowned—no elopements—no nothing about which to write a startling paragraph."

ADVERTISING.—In relation to advertising Horace Greeley has credit for giving utterance to the homely truth that the trader who pays more shop rent than advertising, don't know his business. It may seem to be putting it very strong, but it is nevertheless too true. It is a settled fact that he who has succeeded has been a liberal advertiser; while on the other hand those who have failed in business, have not, as a rule, been in the habit of advertising their business.

OCEAN HARMONICA.—The splendid instrument, which is advertised in a special notice in other column, and which can be seen at J. L. Parish & Co's, a peculiarity worthy of attention. The key-board is movable and can be adjusted to any key, to any instrument, or to the voice of any singer. This certainly is an important discovery in the manufacture of musical instruments. We refer readers for further information in regard to this valuable instrument to the notice spoken of above.

ACCIDENT.—As the funeral procession, yesterday, was being ferried across the river, quite a number of people had congregated on the singing north of and adjoining the ferry landing. The boat in attempting to land, struck the staging, causing it to part in the middle, by which a young man was precipitated into the water below, causing him an involuntary immersion in "sparkling cold water" and doing no other damage.

NEW ENGINE.—The proprietors of the Willamette Iron Works have been heretofore using an engine of twelve horse power, which was found of insufficient capacity, but how they have a new one erected of thirty-five horse power, which increases the capacity of the establishment for turning out work. The addition of another building to the original shop is nearly completed.

LUNCH.—The ladies of the Unitarian Society will set a lunch to-day from 12 to 3 o'clock, in Munsates building, First street, between Morrison and Yamhill. The ladies are prepared to furnish a most delicious repast. What with ice cream, strawberries, and other delicacies, it is hardly possible for any gentleman to resist the temptation to call at the time stated.

CONTRACT LET.—We were informed that the contract for the erection of the Methodist Church, was awarded to Mr. Eldridge, who is to erect the walls, put on the roof and put in the basement windows and doors—the building to be by him enclosed. The contract price is $14,900.

FREIGHT.—The Senator yesterday brought down 3,102 sacks of flour, 1 bale of paper, 17 boxes mdse, 6 bf bbls ... 220 gunnies bacon, 143 sks wheat, 200 sks middlings, 20 sks feed 3 bbls mdse, 1 pkg sks, 1 pkg wool, 4 bbls produce, 4 bxs mdse.

RIVER FACTORY.—The barrel factory in the north end of town was yesterday running to its fullest capacity, turning out staves and headings, as if business in that branch of trade was good, which we have no doubt is the case.

OPENED.—Promptly at the hour of 3 yesterday, our business houses opened out for trade. We heard one witty chap remark that times were dull and that he had not lost much by closing. Human nature will stick out.

DEPARTED.—Hons Alvan Flanders and S Garfields, left the city yesterday to mix with the good people of Washington Territory. Mr Flanders will spend a short time in Puget County and also at Olympia.

IMPROVEMENT.—North Front, from C street to the gas-works, has been so far improved and graded as to render passage over that section of the street more easy, agreeable and convenient.

RECORDER.—Business will be resumed this morning in the Recorder's Court, Judge Hoffman presiding. Several cases are to be disposed of.

JUST THE PEOPLE FOR BARMAN BROS.—That men are now a days sharp and to buy at the cheapest store. Look at their prices and let your own eyes be the judges. Suits from $9 to $75. California pants, A. No 1 quality, from $4 to $6 50. Vests, from $2 50 to $7. If this don't make you feel good, we can't help it; you will find it's true by calling on Barman Bros, at their celebrated Clothing Store, corner Front and Morrison streets, Portland.

A SPLENDID INSTRUMENT.—We saw, yesterday, at J. L. Parrish & Co's something new in the way of an organ—a French instrument called the Organ Harmonium—invented by Alphonse Rodolphe. It is a very considerable modification of the organ as we have them from the American manufactories. It is provided with sixteen stops, each of which exercises a distinct and peculiar effect upon the tone. The base stops are the Forte, Tea Dolce, (soft, sweet) Basson, Clarion, Bourdon, English Horn; the treble stops are Expression, Tremolo, Sixth, Bagpipe, Flute, Clarionette, Fife, Hautbois, Voix Celeste, Forte, and Knee or Full Expression. The effect of these stops in changing the tone is most surprising. For instance from the flute to Voix Celeste with Full Expression, the tone changes from what sounds precisely like a soft flute, to that full grand harmony which we would expect from an Angel choir—which the name imports. The Key-Board is movable and can be adjusted to any key, to any instrument, or to the voice of any singer. Other changes are no less surprising. The instruments are of the most perfect workmanship and of the highest finish, having taken the first medals at all the great European Expositions. The prices range from $175, to $700. Persons in want of an instrument should call and see them, for it is impossible to get a correct idea of them, except from personal inspection. J. L. Parrish & Co., are sole agents for the Pacific coast.

ENFEEBLED AND DELICATE CONSTITUTIONS, of both sexes, use HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU. It will give brisk, energetic feelings, and enable you to sleep well.

Consumption like the Rattle Snake, always gives warning of its approach. A hacking cough, dull pain in the chest, difficulty of breathing, are the indications that there is more or less irritation of the lungs. If this be neglected, and go on until pustules are formed, followed by tubercles, which sometimes eat off the blood vessels, death will be the result. Allen's Lung Balsam will heal the irritated parts, allay the inflammation, removing the phlegm and matter, thus stopping the cough, and preventing fatal consumption. An Era in Mining.

[From the Idaho Statesman]

It is always our pleasure to note the occurrence of any event that promises to increase the yield of mines or reduce the cost of working them The reason is obvious, for upon the success of silver mining depends, not the wealth and prosperity, but we might better say the very existence of Idaho Territory Silver mining must be made generally profitable, or the Territories of Colorado, Montana, Idaho and Utah and the State of Nevada become most uninviting places to inhabit Placer mining, never so important as in California, will soon be worn out, while other States offer better inducements to settlement when considered as agricultural communities It is also found that gold bearing ledges are much less numerous than those that produce silver, while many of those which yield gold principally at the surface are found at a very moderate depth to contain as much silver as gold and cannot be profitably worked unless both metals can be saved From these facts there is but one conclusion to be drawn silver mining must become generally more profitable or the life will flicker out of these States and Territories more rapidly in the next few years than it biased up during the last ten We say that silver mining must be made generally profitable We mean by this that not one lode in a hundred must be made to pay, but pretty near the whole hundred must yield a handsome margin for profits. Not the Poorman alone must be worked. That is more nearly a mine of metal than of ore, and it is impossible to work it and not make money out of it. What we want is some practical method of working that class of ores which contain from twenty-five to one hundred dollars per ton, saving, say within ten to twenty per cent of the metal they contain. We presume there is not a mill running on silver ore in Colorado, Nevada or Idaho that does that. Most of them are trundling along with the most cumbersome and expensive machinery, saving from thirty to fifty per cent. only of their best ores, and the stockholders in New York wonder why they get no dividends These facts need only to be noticed to convince any one of the necessity of reform and improvement in the methods of handling ores. This is the conclusion reached by all practical men. The era of lavish expenditure of money without some assurance of a return is end ed It is safe to say that no more money will be put into mills or mines until there is a reasonable show to make money by the venture. The fact that, considered as a profitable speculation, silver mining has proved with very few exceptions, a total failure, is quite enough to cool the enthusiasm of the most enterprising of Eastern capitalists. The sale of mines to Eastern men, and the building of mills, has therefore, under the present state of things, come to a close. A few mills will of course keep pegging away upon the richest ores, or those most easily worked, throwing away from half to two-thirds of the metals in their tailings, yet still saving enough to make some money. Utter recklessness as well as ignorance has marked the last few years in quartz mining An utter want of sense has generally been exhibited in building mills where there were no ledges, or in building mills that would not work, and in most cases in entrusting their management to hands and hands that were utterly incompetent. Ignorance of the business is proven in the fact that but few mills have been able to make expenses out of rock that actually contained from sixty to one hundred and fifty dollars per ton, though it cost less than twenty to work it. This remark will apply with more force to Colorado and Nevada than to this Territory, yet it would apply equally as well here had not so many companies broke down from sheer mismanagement before going far enough to test their ability to work their ores. The practical result then of American silver mining, especially in the territories above named, is that there are a multitude of mines rich enough to satisfy anybody but that miners are not able to part the gold and silver from their ores. The miners are numerous enough and rich enough to give every man in America who feels an opportunity to invest money or labor, and to do so with profit to himself, provided only he can devise some practical way to save nearly all the money that is in them. Until this is done we do not look for a revival of mill building, nor a flow of greenbacks from the emporiums of capital to the mine.

Bounties Equalization.

[From the N. Y. Times]

The Finance Committee of the Massachusetts House of Representatives have reported universely upon the scheme for the equalization of bounties in that State. We learn from the Boston Advertiser that: "The committee argue that a State which owes not far from twenty-seven millions and a half already needs to use a prudent economy in its future expenditures, especially as its finances are now in a condition which will soon require increased debt or increased taxation. And they argue also that having expended in bounties and State aid more than twenty-four and a half millions, and having resolved to persevere in the policy of liberal relief by the State to military claimants, the Commonwealth cannot now be properly accused of being niggard in her dealings with the defenders to whom she acknowledges that she owes so large a part of her glory."

With a certain alteration of the figures, to meet the facts of each particular case, the argument thus concisely presented applies with equal force to similar schemes in other States, and to the colossal schemes which have been launched in Congress. No State in the Union can now afford to increase its debt, none can safely attempt it except on grounds of the most urgent necessity. Nearly all have strained their credit to the utmost capacity—some beyond it, and in every one of the enormous burden of local taxation is a most important element. The same is true of the national condition. The pile of accumulated debt seems so to topple over when the annual interest is added to it, and the addition of the said millions—which is not an extravagant estimate of what, in the vernacular of the day, is known as bounties' equalization—would assuredly upset the credit of the Republic. Besides, more debt means more taxation, and for that the country is not prepared. It staggers under its present load, and demands relief—not aggravation, even on the most plausible of pretexts.

Nor should it be forgotten that the call for the equalization of bounties proceeds—not from the returned soldiers of the Union, but—from speculators, trading upon alleged claims, and from politicians, intent upon purchasing favor with public money. A disbanded army of mercenaries might be expected to clamor for pecuniary rewards, regardless of the absence of right to insist upon what was not promised, and unmindful of the impossibility of framing a scheme of equalization that would insure absolute equity to every case But the great majority of the Union soldiers were not mercenaries. They shouldered their rifles without considering the question of pay, and never dreamed of claiming more money from the impoverished Union they hoped to save. These men lend no countenance to the movement for "equalization." They have gotten up no petitions, presented no remonstrances, and would spurn the notion of measuring their devotion by the difference between the earlier and later bounties of the war The men most demonstrative on the subject are the agents who would pocket the lion's share of any amount that would be voted, and the trading partisans who would ride into office on the soldiers' shoulders.

What the soldiers may properly ask, and what the country is prepared to concede, is adequate provision for poor widows and orphans, and for those of their number whom the vicissitudes of war have deprived of the means of earning a comfortable subsistence A wise and permanent plan of relief will be a just recognition of their services, and will be infinitely more useful than any scheme for squandering hundreds of millions under the pretense of equalizing bounties. The Massachusetts Committee wisely hold up this view of the case, and it will commend itself to the calm judgment of the people. The country has need of all its available means and credit to fulfill its obligations, and meet the requirements of strict justice To transcend those limits, and enter upon a bounteous era of extravagance, miscalled generosity, were to expose everything to the perils of national bankruptcy.

Granville John Penn, Esq., the great grandson of William Penn the Proprietary of Pennsylvania, died in London on the 29th ult. Mr. Penn was the eldest surviving son of Granville Penn, Esq of Stoke Pogis, who was the eldest son of Thomas Penn, one of the joint Proprietaries of Pennsylvania. Thomas Penn was the eldest son of William Penn, by his second wife, Hannah Callowell. The only surviving descendent of the founder of Pennsylvania, who bears the name of Penn, is an unmarried brother of Granville John Penn, who was also a bachelor; so that the name will soon be extinct. There are several descendants of the founder, however, of other names, among whom may be mentioned Lord Northland, Lady Gonne and the Penn Gaskill family, of Philadelphia.

A SINGULAR LAKE.—Spanish Lake situated two or three miles above New Iberia, Louisiana, is fed by springs, and more than half its surface is covered by a floating turf, whose roots are interwoven so closely that a man may walk on it It looks like a flat prairie to those who travel on its banks. At all seasons, except Winter, it is as green as our prairies in April By cutting through this floating turf fine fish in abundance may be caught. In time this turf will cover the whole lake.

NASBY

THE DEPARTURE OF ELDER GAVITT—HE NASBY ANNOUNCES THE DEATH OF HIS FRIEND, AND MOURNS—A TOUCHING INFIRMARY.

POST OFFICE, CONFEDERATE X ROADS,
(which is in the State uv Kentucky,)
May 2, 1867

A blite has fallen o'er my soul My eyes albeert unused to the moltin mood, hev dissolved nothin but tears for twelve hours A pilled hoz fallen! In the meetin hours there is a vacant pew, and a chair at Bascom's is without a occupy. Last nite at precisely nine p m, Elder Abimelech Gavitt departed this life, aged 36 years and some odd months.

I weep oz I rite The Elder wuz snuffl out jest oz the flours uv spring wuz comin—jest oz the weither wuz gettin warm enuff to go barefooted—jest when it wuzn't necessary to bother about gittin fire wood or be concerned about feedin the stock—jest when it begins to be comfortable a setin on the grocery stoop—just at the threshold of six months' enjoyment Why wuz he taken? I do answers. The ways of Providents is inscrootable.

Elder Gavitt was a native uv North Kirby, wich State he left in the blush of early manhood, just after he was married. Wat he left North Kirby for I never was able to ascertain promisely, but I hev understood that it was suthin in connection with a smoke house and the hams that did hang therein. He wuz in a Whig neborhood—his naber, the proprietor uv the smoke house, wuz a Whig—there was some hams miss—the rounds wuz found in his possession—Whig intolerence and persekooshen. Upon sich slite evidence he wuz adjudged guilty uv theft, and wuz ignominiously rid on a rale, and ordered to leave the country in twenty hours, wich he did and drifted nat'rally to Kentucky Thank Heaven for such outrages! But for sich, Kentucky would hev bin a Republikan Stait, or would hev remained unsettled to this day.

Elder Gavitt wuz alluz a Democrat uv the strictest sect. He voted for Jackson, and regularly for every Democratic candidate since. He didn't read very much, indede ef I remember rite, he couldn't do it at all, and wuz, consequently, stood fast in his faith He wuzn't shook about, and driven hither and yon by every wind, but remained three life fast in the groove into wich he hed bin originally set. His politikle creed wuz made up uv this one idee, to-wit. Hatred uv Noo England He hated Noo England becoz Noo England hated whisky, which he couldn't git along without, and slavery, uv which he hed a hundred niggers. He votid agin Noo England all his life rogierly, and ez many times on each election day ez he could, without risk.

My acquaintuns with the deceast commenced about three years ago. It wux at his house I stopt on my advent into those parts. Ther wuz no need of formal introdookshens—there wuz already a bond atween us wich knit our souls together. His eye, ez it lit onto my nose, lit up with a smile, and as I gazed on him I felt that he wuz indeed a man and a brother. He took me in—he sheltered me—he gave me whereof to eat and drink and to make merry, and with him I tarried till I wuz rogierly installed ez pastor uv the Church, and thereby rogierly provided for.

The cus uv the Elder's death wux a broken heart. He wux a ardent Confedrit, and manfully bore up under the reverses of the war. His courage wux unshaken durin the repeated success uv the Federal armies, and even when Emancipation deprived him uv his slaves, he still had faith that overchecholly, all would be well "We may be beaten now," wux his constant remark, "but the Northern Dimocrisy are all right, and thro them we'll yet conkor!" Confidin in on, bleevin in em, he held out brave up to the passage of the Military Reconstruction bill,

I then saw a change steel insensibly over my venerable friend. His head bowed with supprest grief—his bosum throbbed with the emoshun that wux struglin for utterance. He would cum over to my offis five or six times a day, and ask me to read him that passij of the law givin the nigger the ballot. I wood do it, when, without sayin a word, he wood reel off, with tears flowin down his wastid cheeks. I wood foller him, to see that no harm came to him. The old man was so broken down that he'd pay fur his own licker, and mine too, without notioin. Fearin to awake unpleasant emoshuns in his mind, I never mentioned the latter circumstans.

Things grew worse with him. When Mr. Randall wrote me to consiliate the nigger ez Wade Hampton wux a doin it, the old father in Dimocrisy obeyed without a murmur. Dimocrisy wux his first idea, and he obade her behests, tho twas consoomin his very sole. He shook hands with niggers at my reksest, the touch wux ez red hot iron—he took two of em into his pew, tho his proximity to em set him a shakin like the ager, and he voted to change the name and the objects uv the Institoot, tho the convulsiv workin uv his face showd wat the struggle cost him.

Day by day the Elder faded. The iron entered his sole, and it wuz corrodin corrodin corrodin! and eatin him up by degrees. He walked the streets listlessly, his eyes suffoosed with tears, and his lips movin ex of muttering suthin to himself. I become concerned for him, and so did the entire cirkle. Bascom figgered up his account at his bar, and went to the record to see whether his farm wux uncumbered, and sich uv the neighbors ez had lent him small sums not about gettin em.

Last Sunday the pitcher went to the well for the last time. I hed four niggers in his pew, upon whom he looked vakantly, but said nothin. After service I stopped him. "Elder," sed I, in a wisper, "it would hev a good effeck of you cood kiss them little nigger girls."

"Parson!" sed he, tremblin like a loaf, "is it absolootely necessary."

"It is," sed I, firmly, "a dooty every Dimocrat owes to his party, in this krisis, to kiss ez many nigger children ez possible."

A strange expression lit up the old man's countenance. In a frenzied manner he kissed all the wux in the church, and ex of insane commenshun the adult femails uv that persuasion. With difficulty we restrained him, but breakin loose from us he started down the street, a runnin and a kissin every nigger's child his eyes rested on Finally he sunk to the earth ogsausted, and we bore him to his house and put him to bed. From that bed he never ariz. He was a goner. We had to give him his likker in a spoon, and I never need a Kentuckian to recover who was past drinkin out uv a bottle

Slowly his strength wasted. Yesterday he rallied and asked me, ez the candle uv life flickered feebly in the socket.

"Professer!" said he, with an effort, "is Kentucky to rool the nigger or the nigger to rool Kentucky? Has the Dimocrisy swallowed the nigger or the nigger swallpwed the Dimocrisy?"

And all wux o'er. He fell bak a piece uv clay wich never cood rally to the poles agin.

Bascom and I turned aside and wept. Sed Bascom, "hed he lived two years more I wood hev had his farm."

"Not any," rod I, bustin into tears. "I wood hev hed it to endow the Institution."

"In that event it wood evenchoually hev bin mine," gasped Bascom, relapsin into a fresh spasm uv grief.

We buried his yesterday. It wuz the biggest funeral ever known at the Corners. It wuz a tashun site. Standing around his bier wuz his four children by his fust wife, and twelve or fifteen other children uv all colors from that uv a new saddle up to dark molasses, who insisted upon being counted in ez mourners It wuz the tightest place I wux in in my life.

"My friends," said I to 'em, "is this seemly? Is this proper?"

They replied that it wux "I moorn a father," sed one, "not much uv a father, but he wuz the only one I ever hed" "I moorn a husband," sed the mother uv the first speaker, not legally a husband, but morally, or rather immorally." "We weep," and all those various shades in greef wich completely extinguished them on the t'other side uv the grave, wich hed the jugal right to mourn

Ez a matter uv course, it ended in a row Issaker Gavitt swore that no cussid bleached niggers should shed tears at his father's funeral, and Amanda flew at a quadroon wich was tryin too prominently, and Mrs. Gavitt attakt the quadroon's mother who wux displaying altogether too much wite pokit hankerchief In the melee I left, satisfied that Dimocrisy hez altogether too many rufflints to get over pleasant.

I feel it my dooty to erect a monument to the memory of this good and true man—this martir to Democrasy. Dimokrats feelin an interest in the matter and wishin to contribute to the work may send my mail such donashuns ez they may see fit, to me, with perfect confidence that they will be pooled Let em remember that but for his devoshen to the cos he would hev bin livin to day Ef we cannot do much for the livin let us not forgit the dead

"Is there any person that you would particularly wish me to marry?" said a widow expectant to her dying spouse, who had been somewhat of a tyrant in his day "Marry the devil, if you like!" was the gruff reply "Oh no, my dear, it is not lawful to marry two brothers."

"Sal," cried a girl looking down from the upper story of a grocery, addressing another girl who was trying to enter at the front door, "we've all been to camp-meeting, and have been converted, so when you want milk on Sunday, you'll have to come round to the back door."

Chronology of Printing

BY I. J. BAKIN.

Previous to the year 1000, printing from wood on blocks was said to be known and practised in China—but the most authentic information as to the art of which we now have record is given below and may be verified

1100—Playing cards first printed from blocks in Europe

1440—John Genesleish, surnamed Guttenberg, first prints in an alphabetical language, it is said on blocks which served only for the work printed

1445—John Meydenbuch joins his wealth to the skill of Guttenberg and John Faustus, who were the first printers About this time Faustus invents movable types of metal, receiving assistance from his son in law, Peter Schoeffer who devised the punchesons, matrices and moulds for casting them

1462—Faustus prints the Vulgate Bible, in two volumes, which he sold at first as high as five hundred crowns per copy Having reduced the price to thirty crowns, he was seriously adjudged to be in league with the devil, and would have been sacrificed for witchcraft had he not explained his art.

1466—Faustus prints "Cicero de Officiis," and soon after does

1473—Greek first printed

1474—First printing in England

1475—First Almanac printed

1495—Within de Worde prints the first book on paper manufactured in England

1499—First work of a geographical nature print ed in Spain

1501—Inquisition at Venice to check the diffusion of knowledge by the press

1522—Hebrew printed in Germany

1542—Guzottoers first published in Venice, and so called from a coin for which they were sold, Guzotten

1667—The first book on longitude, written by Nonius, and printed in Portugal

1654—The first alphabet for the deaf and dumb with instructions printed in Spain

1671—Printers in Paris, as a mark of respect, authorized to wear swords.

1577—Book of Diophantine Algebra first printed.

1588—"English Mercuria," a pamphlet, printed, the first attempt at periodical literature

1603—First Decimal Arithmetic printed in Flanders.

1612—King James', the present version of the Bible, which had been seven years in the hands of the translators, printed

1615—Napier's Logarithms printed

1639—Printing at Cambridge, Mass, being the first attempt within the present limits of the United States.

1661—"The Public Intelligencer," by Sir Robert L'Estrade, the first newspaper published in England, of which a few numbers are still extant

1665—The first Treatise on Insurance printed.

1705—The "Boston News Letter"—the first paper within the present limits of the United States, printed by John Campbell, a Scotchman

1700—Dr. Franklin, the great American printer, philosopher and statesman, born in Boston

1701—American "Weekly Mercury," the first paper in Philadelphia, printed.

1727—The "New York Gazett," the first paper in that State, printed and published in Juno.

1728—"Maryland Gazette" printed.

1731—Printing in South Carolina

1742—First printing on paper made within the limits of the United States.

1777—First printing in Georgia.

1755—Johnson's Dictionary printed in England

1771—Printing in Louisiana.

1770—Fifty-six newspapers printed in the United States

1787—First printing in Mississippi

1799—Mississippi Gazette printed in Natchez

1814—Printing in Alabama

1828—Nine hundred newspapers printed in the United States.

1836—Thirteen hundred newspaper in the United States and Territories and District of Columbia. From that time to the present the increase in newspapers and books printed has scarcely a limit.

THE CRUELTY OF WIRZ—WHAT ONE OF HIS PRISONERS SAYS ABOUT HIM.—The efforts of Mr. Louis Schade, Wirz's counsel, to whitewash the Andersonville jailor, has brought out some strong testimony from an eye witness of his cruelties L. J. Perry, of the Waupaca (Wis.) Criterion, who served as a non-commissioned officer in the Second Wisconsin, in the army of the Potomac, was taken prisoner and confined at Andersonville, writes in his paper as follows:

In the war we had the misfortune to be captured by the rebels, and served as a prisoner twenty months, during the greater part of which time we were in the hands of that demon whom they (the Democratic papers) lied by Schade, are making a martyr of. During that horrible blank in our life, we saw this man knock down and stamp upon sick Union prisoners, who were too weak to get out of his way, we saw and heard him order a rebel guard to fire at a group of Union prisoners, which order was obeyed, by which means a Union soldier was maimed for life by the loss of a leg; we saw him once manacle two men together and then whip one of them with a riding whip, until the man could not stand, we saw four men shot dead, coolly and deliberately, by rebel guards under his orders, who were murdered with out cause; we saw during the twenty months, not less than fifty dead bodies of brother Union soldiers so murdered, we have heard Wirz, at Richmond, order and even urge his guards to kill every prisoner they could, plausibly, we heard him say more than a hundred times that every d—d Yankee prisoner in the South ought to be hung; we know that his watchwords were kill, slay, destroy, and last, but not least, while these thirty thousand wretched beings were literally starving at Andersonville during the months of July and August, 1864, his expressions of demoniac delight were often heard. We heard him say at that time, if the North could be whipped by starving prisoners, he could put a quietus to thirty thousand in short meter.

All this, and numberless other acts, which convinced us all that he was a cruel, relentless, bloodthirsty man, and that human suffering and privation was what he lived upon.

CITY OF ASTORIA:

Carrying Passengers at $10, the Round Trip, (Meals Included.)

The Boat leaves Portland Wednesdays and Saturdays at 7½ A M Returning leaves Astoria Thursdays and Mondays at 6 o'clock A M.

Every person purchasing a Passenger Ticket will be presented with one of 900 Prize Tickets, to be drawn on the 1ST DAY OF AUGUST, 1867, for the following Prizes

Steamer U. S. GRANT, to be divided into 4 shares;
ONE BLOCK OF LOTS IN EAST PORTLAND, divided into 8 shares, or one lot to the share, viz Lots 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7 and 8, Block 17, opposite the "New Columbian" Hotel, and at the terminus of the proposed Suspension Bridge,
ONE GOLD WATCH, worth $100;
150 CORDS DRY FIR WOOD, in 3 shares, to be placed on the Brooklyn Wharf

The steamer is 54 tons burthen, 32 horse-power engine, propeller wheel, draft of water 5 feet. She is being thoroughly refitted and refurnished as a Passenger Boat. The Boat will be delivered in perfect order, free from all incumbrance, and Warranty Deeds made for the real estate, to the persons drawing the same. Tickets can be had of C P FERRY, in Portland, where the money will be left on deposit till the prizes are drawn and delivered. Any person having a claim against me, and wishing a ticket, can get his order for one by calling on me on board the boat. The person drawing the gold watch can have $100 in gold coin, if preferred.

C. P. FERRY, Broker, R J. LADD, ex-Sheriff, AL ZEIBER, U S Marshal, and C S. SILVER, Merchant, of Portland, are the Committee and Judges to direct the Drawing of Prizes. The Prizes will be drawn before the 1st of August, if all the tickets are taken before that time

☞ The above liberal offer is made to the traveling public to enable the subscriber to pay his debts, and not with any reference to speculation, as all the property is valued at much less than its cost, (the Steamer alone having cost $14,000), and the price for carrying passengers to Astoria being much less than the usual fare
